

Award Nomination

Outstanding Contribution to the Profession

Description

The South Carolina Emergency Management Association's Outstanding Contribution to the Profession is given to an individual who made a significant contribution to the enhancement of emergency management.

Eligibility

To be considered for Outstanding Contribution to the Profession an individual must meet the following criteria:

- Made a significant contribution to the enhancement of emergency management in South Carolina by going above the normal call of duty.
- Must be affiliated with a local, state, tribal, military, federal government, non-governmental (NGO), or private sector emergency management organization as either a paid staff member or volunteer.
- Contributions must be well documented including photos, newspaper articles, web articles, or videos.